On behalf of Debra Mahony of Fairfield, CT, I'm submitting an online petition signed by 406 Connecticut residents in 2013.

The petition calls on the Public Health Committee to ban indoor tanning for minors under the age of 18 in the state of Connecticut.

While similar to the goals of S.B. 872, this petition differs in that it does not include any exemptions

VERBATIM TEXT FROM ONLINE PETITION

I ask for your support to ban indoor tanning by minors under the age of 18 in Connecticut. The scientific evidence is clear and abundant regarding the dangers of indoor tanning — in relation to both melanoma and non-melanoma skin cancer.
For the reasons summarized below, action is needed now to ban indoor tanning by minors:

- From 1970 to 2009, skin cancer incidence in the U.S. increased eight-fold among females ages 18 to 39.
- A recent national survey found that 21% of U.S. high school girls had indoor tanned in the past year.
- Individuals who indoor tan starting at younger ages have a higher risk of skin cancer compared to those starting later in life.
- Data from Connecticut show that nearly half of cases of basal cell carcinoma, a type of non-melanoma skin cancer, in females under age 40 could be prevented if individuals never tanned indoors.
- The indoor tanning industry targets teenage girls in its ads, denies known health risks, and provides false information on health benefits.
- Much of the current U.S. indoor tanning laws, which are largely based on parental consent, are ineffective in reducing indoor tanning among adolescents.
- The ultraviolet radiation (UVR) in indoor tanning can be 10 to 15 times stronger than the UVR in the Mediterranean midday sun.
- Indoor tanning is classified as a human carcinogen, like tobacco smoke and asbestos, by leading health and medical organizations, including the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the International Agency for Research on Cancer.
- Like cigarettes, indoor tanning as a cancer causing agent needs proper regulation for minors. California and Vermont have banned the use of tanning beds by minors under 18; New York, for those under 17.

Now is Connecticut's time to protect our minors from this carcinogen.

Please join me in supporting a ban on indoor tanning by minors under 18.
