FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT - BILL NUMBER sHB 5506

STATE IMPACT	Uncertain, see explanation below
MUNICIPAL IMPACT	Potential Minimal Cost, see explanation below
STATE AGENCY(S)	Department of Income Maintenance

EXPLANATION OF ESTIMATES:

STATE IMPACT: The fiscal impact to the State resulting from the passage of this bill as amended is uncertain. The bill as amended would add an additional AFDC emergency housing eligibility category for families with children who have been relocated from housing where a lead paint problem has resulted in a child of that family having an elevated lead level. It is uncertain as to how many families would be eligible for and subsequently receive this benefit. It is anticipated, however, that this change may result in an increase in the number of cases which receive this benefit which cannot be determined at this time. This increase in cases may result in costs which would be subject to appropriate adjustments in federal financial participation.

MUNICIPAL IMPACT: Adoption of this bill as amended may result in a potential minimal cost to municipalities. Municipalities currently are mandated to perform lead-related epidemiological investigations and hence this bill as amended conforms to current mandates. To the extent that this bill results in additional epidemiological investigations, a potential minimal cost may result.

House "A" replaced the bill, which eliminated the Potential Future Cost to the Department of Housing (Bond Funds) and Potential Cost to municipalities that were anticipated to result from the passage of the original bill.
