

Reverend Charles H. Hudson
Pastor - New Covenant C.M.E. Church
New Haven, Ct.

This Question of same sex unions has yet again found a way to further divide our communities and steal our focus away from the real issues of life which are all of our responsibility. That is to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, to care for our sick and promote healthy living for all mankind, not just who has the right to sleep with whom, not just who has the right to love whom for we are commanded to love one another.

We have turned this into a no mans land existence attempting to operate somewhere between right or wrong. There is no in between, there is no gray area, there is only right or wrong. This question has made us indolent, inept, and completely self-centered in dealing with the natural process of what is.

Natural, like right does not promote disorder, natural, like right does not divide, natural, like right does not take us out of the pre-existent innate process of what God has ordained in man and woman. Whether we subscribe to the theory that God is or not, and if we were to be completely honest with ourselves we might recognize the mass hysteria and confusion generated by those who simple purport to love, is not of God, for God is love and not the author of confusion.

I come to remind us all that we are loved beyond measure, no matter what we do or the choices we make in life we are loved without condition, but this does not give us the right to take the freedom that we as a people enjoy and change it to fit ourselves, forcing every one to conform to what goes against the inbred righteousness of God's Spirit in us all because we can not figure out who we are. It has been tried with devastating results and we all will be held accountable for what we have allowed to further corrupt and tear away from the very fabric of God's law for our own self-centered desires. This question is not a question of life, but rather a tactic of annihilation, and if our elected officials will not protect the sanctity of morality without becoming conformist themselves then do not be shocked with the further decay of our society which will undulate across every home throughout this world as a tornado dancing across the open plains of our western states.