Testimony in Support of HB 6565

Dear Rep. Fleischmann, Sen. Gaffey and Members of the Environment Committee,

As a compassionate person and student, I am against dissection and I think there is no need to be forced to dissect animals in class. Dissecting animals is unnecessary in high school science classes. Most medical schools no longer use animal labs anymore, as there is more advanced technology in today's modern world. There are computer programs that do a good job teaching the concepts, without having to kill an animal. Thank you for your time.
