

Connecticut Stimulus Funding Update

August 18 rev.

Note: This information reflects either stimulus dollars that have already been expended – usually in the form of individual benefits such as unemployment or food stamps – or funding commitments made by either the state or federal government. These funding commitments are typically associated with individual projects.

The information presented on the federal Recovery site concerning Recovery Act funding represents announcements or actual funding awards made by federal agencies to either state agencies, municipalities, non-profit entities such as community health centers, for-profit entities, or for the purposes of a federal agency initiating a project or projects here in Connecticut at facility or location they own and/or manage such as the Army Corps of Engineer flood control projects.

In some cases, the information presented on the federal Recovery website represents awards that require a plan to be formally submitted and approved prior to the funds being eligible for expenditure. As a result, funding information represented at the federal level does not necessarily align with the commitments reflected below. Some plans are still awaiting federal approval such as the state's Energy Efficiency and Conservation Block Grant plan.

In other cases, the funding is available to state agencies – such as Clean Water and Safe Drinking Water – but project commitments at the state level have not been finalized. Therefore, they are not reflected in the following document.

The information presented can sometimes reflect two different snapshots along the funding continuum. The federal site generally reflects the announcement of federal funding for certain programs while the information presented below reflects actual commitments of that funding once it has been made available – further down the line of the continuum.

Program

Amount

Unemployment Insurance Benefit

$81,279,791 – as of August 18th

Description: additional $25.00 in every unemployment check.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program      $26,991,380 – as of August 18th

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as Food Stamps, helps low-income people and families afford the cost of food at the supermarket or grocery store. The funding provided by the ARRA means an average increase of $38 in benefits per month for enrolled households (124,769 in Connecticut.)

Federal Medical Assistance Percentage

$403,408,776 – as of August 18th

Medicaid is a federal/state partnership program to provide health benefits to certain low income Americans including children, their parents, pregnant women, the elderly and those with disabilities. As part of the Recovery Act, the federal government will increase, by 6.2%, the portion it pays of each state's Medicaid costs on a temporary basis.

Community Health Centers $3,725,000

Description: the funds support community health centers, known as Federally Qualified Health Centers, which are community-based organizations that serve populations with limited access to health care.

Locations: Torrington, Norwalk and Willimantic

Community Development Block Grants $11,082,393

Description: the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program enables local governments to undertake a wide range of activities intended to create suitable living environments, provide decent affordable housing and create economic opportunities, primarily for persons of low and moderate income.

State of Connecticut $3,616,527

August 11 update: DECD has submitted an application to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development to distribute the state's portion of this grant - $3.6 million – to nearly a dozen communities to assist those communities in addressing housing issues raised through high foreclosure rates. That plan is still pending approval.
