

I have been denied access to my grandchildren since Dec 2010. Their father has been denied since May 2010. Megan and Emma's mother has refused any meetings with me, refused visitation, refused Christmas presents, no phone calls and no mail. I have acted as parent when their mother had surgery and could not be near the girls, and every Sunday for four years (The girls are 7 and 10) I took the girls to church and Sunday school so that their Christian education was seen to. I have also been given permission to treat medically when I had them for a week at a time. I have been to court once about this and a lawyer was appointed to act for the children but has not as yet met with them.

Thanks you, Sara Porter
