

Connecticut
Fair Housing Center

TABLE OF CONTENTS FOR APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE TESTIMONY

Oral Testimony

Erin Kemple

Executive Director of the Connecticut Fair Housing Center

Jeffrey Gentes, Esq.

The Center's Foreclosure Prevention Staff Attorney

Mike and Theresa Francis

Marlborough homeowners who obtained a permanent loan modification with the Center's help and are still in their home.

Dahlia Gordon

A Windsor homeowner facing foreclosure who was assisted by the Center. With the Center's help she has permanently modified her mortgage and saved her home.

Jack and Sarah Harrington

Manchester homeowners facing foreclosure who were able to save their home with the help of the Center's foreclosure attorney.

Perish Reid

A Transition Coordinator with the Money Follows the Person program who is working with the Center to move people from nursing homes into appropriate, less expensive residential living arrangements.

Donna Parris

A woman with a disability who has faced harassment from her landlord.

Ernest Cameron

A formerly homeless man who sought the Center's help when he experienced housing discrimination based on his lawful source of income.

Beverly Bellody

The Fair Housing Officer for the Town of Tolland who has worked with the Center to ensure the town met its fair housing obligations.

Joseph Scully, Esq.

A litigation partner at Day Pitney LLP, and a volunteer attorney on Center cases

Written Testimony

Moy Ogilvie

A partner at McCarter and English who is co-counseling a case with the Center.

Regina Dowling

The Director of the Paralegal Studies Department at the University of Hartford, which works in partnership with the Center on foreclosure prevention efforts.

Jackie Grant

A New Haven tenant represented by the Center who experienced source of income discrimination.

Keith Fuller

Attorney in private practice who is working with the Center on representing homeowners in foreclosure.

Janice Fleming

A Hartford homeowner who sought the Center's assistance because she was the victim of predatory lending.

Bridgette Russell

A housing counselor for homeowners in foreclosure who works with the Center's foreclosure attorney.

Daniel Blinn

A consumer attorney working with the Center on predatory lending issues.

Ann Mitchell

Single mother of a Windsor Locks family with a disabled daughter.

Ellison Findly

A Trinity College professor who sought the Center's assistance for her daughter with a disability.

Maria Falcon

A Hartford tenant who was refused an apartment because of her children and her source of income

James Bombanti

A disabled Newington condominium owner who sought assistance from the Center to get a parking place closer to his front door.

Robert Robbins

A disabled Korean war veteran who is being evicted from subsidized housing by CT Institute for the Blind.

Heather Willoughby

A tenant with a disability who sought the Center's help in moving from an inaccessible apartment into one that was accessible.