

I don't care which bill gets passed as long as outdoor recreation enthusiasts can experience litigation-free venues. I believe engaging in free recreation is as much the American Way as apple pie. This freedom should not hold others responsible for the mistakes or accidents of the user, even for more risky activities. Let us play and recreate in the ways we choose with the full responsibility of the consequences squarely on our shoulders.

I am a member of CT NEMBA and advocate for mountain biking venues free from litigation.

- Bryan McFarland