

Hi,

I'd like to voice my support of the expansion. My wife and I travel to New York bimonthly to enjoy a weekend in the city. Taking a train from New London would be much more convenient and less expensive than driving to New Haven to catch to catch Metro North. Then parking is an issue because parking in New Haven isn't adequate. Add to that an hour + ride home from New Haven late at night upon return. For us seniors, a growing segment of the population, expanding Shoreline East to operate from New London would be a welcomed option!
