

I suggest that student evaluation of teachers be weighted by the student's grade in the course. Highest weight to the highest grade and lowest weight to lowest grade. If a student who received a high grade in the course gave a teacher a poor to fair evaluation, I think this should carry more weight than a student who did poorly and is blaming the teacher. Students who do not complete the course should not be eligible to evaluate.

I'm not a teacher.

Valerie Marshall

41 Cotswold Way

Avon, CT 06001

(860) 673-1296