

All GMOs should be labeled, so we may choose to eat them or not. It is not right to force people to eat something they don't wish to eat and it is certainly not American, or the mark of a free nation.

If companies are worried that consumers will not purchase their product, then they need to show us why it is safe.

Sue Stern

Woodstock, CT 06281