

Hello,

I am strongly in favor of restricting traps of any kind on public and semi-public lands.

Leg Hold and Body Traps do not discern the difference between an animal being hunted and a household pet or a child.

As a hiker who frequently goes with friends who have kids, pets or both, I do not want to encounter any of these devices.

The outdoors should be a refuge -- not a place of fear -- especially for children.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely Yours,
Christa A. Whitten
