

Hello,

I have been giving the About Boating Safely course for several years now. The time has come for an online boating education that is supplemented by a proctored exam with FAQs or Q & A after completion. Other states have done the licensing/certificate course online and the benefit to the public is vastly more effective than to attempt a class with advertising, staffing, supplies, scheduling conflicts, administrating the tests, grading the tests, printing the certificates ad nauseam.

Please simplify the process of getting a boating license and reduce the cost for the state of Connecticut. Our resources could be allocated to other areas without wasting time printing class materials that could easily appear online.

Thanks

Tom Ceniglio
