

US v. Miller, 307 US 174, United States Supreme Court, 1939

In the Supreme Court case the United States government (US DOJ) brief before the court stated:

... While some courts have said that the right to bear arms includes the right of the individual to have them for the protection of his person and property as well as the right of the people to bear them collectively (People v. Brown, 253 Mich. 537; State v. Duke, 42 Tex. 455), the cases are unanimous in holding that the term "arms" as used in constitutional provisions refers only to those weapons which are ordinarily used for military or public defense purposes...

And the court issued out a final opinion that stated:

... In the absence of any evidence tending to show that possession or use of a "shotgun having a barrel of less than eighteen inches in length" at this time has some reasonable relationship to the preservation or efficiency of a well regulated militia, we cannot say that the Second Amendment guarantees the right to keep and bear such an instrument. Certainly it is not within judicial notice that this weapon is any part of the ordinary military equipment, or that its use could contribute to the common defense. Ayette v. State, 2 Humphreys (Tenn.) 154, 158....

Heller v. DC, 554 US 570, United States Supreme Court, 2008

The court issued its opinion and noted in detailing more regarding common defense arms:

"... Miller, 307 US 174, does not limit the right of people to keep and bear arms ... those in common use... the people have a right to keep and bear arms for the common defense... bearing arms... of the kind in common use at the time..."

It appears as if our legislators have an issue with our 2nd amendment and are trying to end-run the law.

So what are the goals of the legislature and its members? This can be answered from examination of individual legislator's statements that this author has obtained through FOIA requests over the past several weeks. Lets examine a few..

"..guns are appropriate to hunting and target shooting but not to the community.." Sen. Meyer, who clearly believes that the 2nd amendment applies only to hunters and target shooters; it's an affront to this state's citizenry.

"...handguns and rifles that are more than .22 caliber, can hold more than 7 rounds, or can be semi-automatically fired banned. Guns already in circulation that fall into these categories must be placed in target range lock-down cases. Possession of such weapons outside of target ranges banned as of Oct 1, 2013..." Rep. Fleischmann who wishes to ban almost all guns and remove them from citizens' possession. Clearly Rep. Fleischmann wishes to live in China ... it's east, have a good journey comrade.

"..First amendment. ...yelled Fire! .. Subject to arrest" Sen. Bye But one can yell "fire" w/o being arrested if there is a fire; and speaking of fires, I don't not have a fire in my kitchen right now so does this mean I do not need an extinguisher? That's the mentality of our legislature now, trying to dictate what arms and equipment we need without considering why we need them or even being able to state when an arm could be needed and under what circumstances it would be. Preposterous. Also, in oral arguments in the Heller and McDonald cases before SCOTUS, the court noted that the 1st amendment rights have also caused deaths, so this "guns kill people" argument is a moot point when speaking about our natural rights and rights acknowledged by our courts; and its wrong altogether.

"...guns in lawful compliance paying liability premiums would invariably protect their second amendment rights...others ..would ... eliminat(ing) possession of firearms..." obtained from Rep. Godfrey (concerning insurance mandates) indicating his enthusiasm with gun grabs which is a similar viewpoint of the gun registration scheme of SB 1076; it's a gun grab when one considers that it's a yearly requirement to be re-applied for months before the registration lapses. This is the purpose behind the registration processes noted in that SB 1076, there is no doubt. Rep. Godfrey's records indicate that he clearly thinks that the second amendment does not even exist.

This author could fill many pages with the deranged thoughts of Connecticut legislators but I was also specifically interested in the Public Protection and Security Committee members' thoughts that they put to paper. However, this author must report that all but one legislator on the committee has failed to comply with the state's Freedom of Information Act and decided to ignore the law that they helped pass and there are now currently cases pending before the Freedom of Information Commission due to the lack of compliance with our FOI Act. I can only assume that the committee members don't want the public to know their actual motives behind the legislation being considered today and in this legislative session.

This bill, if passed, would have a great impact on mentally ill children. Not only would parents who own guns not seek medical attention for their children because it may result in a loss of the parents gun rights but it would also affect adoptions of children with mental health issues as no gun owner would adopt a child with a history of mental health issues. This bill would be kicking the most needy children out on the curb. This bill is nothing more than an abomination and it is very disturbing.

This bill has its origins in Japan. Japan has such a law (but also does not have a second amendment) as the United States made the citizenry of Japan, through requiring draconian gun control laws by their government against the people of Japan, disarm the general populous. Japan has such laws as a consequence of being conquered nation when they agreed to their unconditional surrender to the Allies in 1945 to end World War II. What war did we lose?

This bill's provisions are clearly unconstitutional as well. Is this how the state wishes to unconstitutionally limit guns in the hands of Its citizens? Through making parents and possible parents choose between their children and their 2nd amendment rights?
