

Kess, Quinn

From: Rev. Liz Wold <lizdcw@earthlink.net>
Sent: Friday, February 22, 2013 7:06 PM
Subject: "Testimony on Bill #6050"

Importance: High

To the Connecticut Legislature considering Bill # 6050-

It is odd that those who have put their support behind this harmful piece of legislature for the most part do not represent persons living in areas that border neighboring states.

Economically this is a travesty in the making-and rather than encouraging commercial, tourist, daily or any other travel through our state these representatives seek to discourage traffic and the real potential for income we need in Connecticut.

Tolls are not a satisfactory or sensible way to raise even a modest amount of revenue. It is only an annoyance that will come back to bite the hand that waits for the bills and coins at the toll booth.

Consider too that you are placing toll stations in densely populated areas- Connecticut already has it's pollution problems. Is it the intention to further jeopardize already poor air quality and contribute to ill health for its citizens? I cringe at the thought of too many motorists waiting in line at a toll booth with their vehicles idling, pollutants spewing into the air that we have to breathe. And who is going to pay for the increased cases of lung diseases that will result from more pollution?

What are you representatives thinking?

Surely there are other more productive and positive things that the State Assembly can do with its time rather than aggravate the very citizens it claims to represent.

Focus on the real, day to day problems of life.
Stop Bill # 6050

V/r
Reverend Elisabeth Wold

Greenwich, Connecticut (at the Port Chester, NY and Connecticut border)

--

Reverend Liz Wold

Faith is a bird that feels dawn breaking and sings while it is still dark

Scandinavian saying