Subject: border tolls

As a CT resident with an out of state second home, I am outraged at the possibility of having to pay a toll every time I leave CT on an interstate.

Have the governor look at the tax dollars he and the commissioner of education are spending on outside consultants to tear apart one of the best education systems in the country.

We should be investing in our infrastructure and adding improved rail options between our Capital city and other major cities. I recently had to take a train from Hartford to NYC and was appalled at the conditions of the station and the slowness of the connecting train to New Haven.

I normally travel to the city from New Haven. How sad that the capital station is so pathetic in comparison.
