Subject: Inclusion Teaming

Inclusion teaming addresses the needs of those individuals who do not qualify for services provided by other agency's. These non traditional communicators fall through the cracks and become labeled inappropriately in schools, the work place and in social settings. This can lead to serious social and emotional consequences . Inclusion Teaming pairs both traditional and non traditional communicators together in their program resulting in a better societal understanding and interactions as well as helping to produce productive individuals. This program changes lives.
