

Dear Sir or Madam, My husband and I took the safe boating class over this past summer, and though we have been boating for quite a few years, this class was so informative and so helpful that we couldn't believe "what we didn't know"! There were also quite a few young people in this class and they were so receptive to the information that was given. This bill would be such a shame! There is no way that anyone could appreciate the training that we had on a computer. Please don't make this mistake. Thank you, Laurie and Morton Friedman. Mallory4@optonline.net
