

I have been a supporter of the New England Trail (NET) for years having been on the original steering committee. I am a regular hiker and conservator of our local trails and open spaces, including the NET, and am a serious amateur photographer who volunteers photographs for conservation purposes. CT Forest & Park, foremost in trail conservation, is one of a few organizations that has utilized many of these photos to promote the trails system in Connecticut. The NET is truly a gem. It travels through some wonderful ecological areas and traverses many of the higher ridgelines through CT's central valley affording amazing views/scenery. It undoubtedly deserves promotion, protection and funding.

Sincerely,
Bob Pagini
