

Testimony for Bill 6592 – Certified Classical Homeopaths

I obtained my CCH in 2001 after rigorous studying for eight years. The test and requirement for the certificate was multi-layered and very comprehensive. The biggest and most difficult aspect to master for the CCH is learning all homeopathic remedies and when they can be appropriately selected. This takes years to master.

The Council for Homeopathic Certification requires hundreds of hours of study with professional homeopaths. I had to have a basic understanding of medical issues. I had to complete a course in anatomy and physiology. We were tested in our knowledge of emergency medical and conditions that require medical attention.

After my many years of studying for the CCH I went on to get my RN and FNP degrees. The CCH testing is as difficult and as rigorous as the NCLEX nursing exam. This is a serious certification that assures responsible and knowledgeable healthcare professionals.

Please consider this profession as an adjunct to medicine. Homeopathy has helped many people throughout the world reach their optimal health. Please support bill 6592 allowing certified classical homeopaths the ability to practice in CT.

Thank you.

Most sincerely,

Tamar Laderman, CCH, RN FNP-BC
