Hi my name is ean and I started the fathers hood program back in late October of 2013. Its still ongoing but with the time that ive spent here so far ive learned quite a bit about being a better father. I didnt really know too much about being a dad before and even how to really raise a child because ive spent almost my whole life in the streets and having fun. but the fathers hood program has helped me and is continuing to help me. I look forward to continuing these classes and plan on staying longer than the usual 12 sessions. I could still learn alot more.

To Whom it may concern, 2/10/14

I would like you to consider maintaining funding for the Fatherhood Initiative Program. It is an excellent format for allowing fathers, not just to learn how to become better fathers, but to share ideas and expiriences with eachother. This program's format is, I feel, very beneficial to the participants.

In my own expiriance, I must say that I have gotten far more out of attending the sessions that I have been part of.

Respectfully,

Christopher A. Price

I think the fatherhood should keep going on and not get cut because It is a great program where fathers get the chance to learn how to be better fathers and to learn how to tackle problems that arrize in the raising of a child. It is a great program and I do learn alot from this program as I do.

DEAR State

Im writing this letter to Inform you that The parenting class Is very good and Should always be available for fathers, looking for help.

There Isn't alot of classes available For fathers with dcf Issues or father Issues. other programs are for parole probation, pretty much they force people to go. This class Is voluntary It Hdps fathers out If they really want It.

There are very good people who care about this class and understand what It takes to be a better father and there should be more classes like This every where.

Sincerely

Steven Wisniewski

To Whom it may Concern:

I am writing this letter to support the father Intiave Program. I strongly feel that this program has given me new and fresh ideas on how to be a better father. As well as having a strong support not only from the staff but from all the other father's that are in the group going through some of the same things I am going through it helps. I feel that this program should continue to be around to continue to help support fathers that are going through difficult times while trying to learn how to continue to be a father and a hardworker and a member of society.

Sincerely,

Eric

This program is really good to get to know about how to keep your children healthy and to make sure to keep an eye on your kids so they wont get into no trouble. Also macdonald place helps out to the staff that you need to keep your kids clean and make sure they got clothes on their backs.

Hi, I am a 53 year old dad with sole custody of 1 son who will be 15 this month, March

Up until recently I thought I knew a lot about parenting and being a good dad.

The program has opened my eyes to several aspects of parenting, fatherhood that I was not putting my undivided attention into.

Also, I feel the people running this program are more than qualified and over great guys as well

Please feel free to contact me to further discuss this program

Thank you
