Legalization of aid in dying is long over due. With modern medical care and an aging population the number of the terminally ill is bound to increase. Many of these suffering patients wish for death but death does not always come easily. It is for this group that aid in dying is intended. BY legalizing aid in dying physicians caring for these terminally ill patients will have an open forum to discuss end of life issues. Aid in dying is not for everyone. But why do those who are against it want to block the availability to those who desire this kind of help.
