I cant say for sure what's doing it but my Audi has numerous rust places down on the lower parts of the body .I am equally concerned about the amount of chemicals that are being spread about now for deposit inevitably into our water courses. I live in the northwest corner of the state and our streams are of particular value and pride to us, but the amount of salt crystals I see everywhere this winter is bound to have an impact on plants and waterborne creatures including fish and macro invertebrates.

thanks,
