

To Whom It May Concern,

I whole heartedly support Bill No. 5080. The question of whether or not to allow Sunday hunting on Private property is a decision best left to the property owner. They are fully capable of deciding who hunts their property and on what days. The state has no business regulating private property in these matters. Aside from being vehemently opposed to the state telling a property owner what they can and can't do with the real estate they own and pay taxes on, it is also a matter of convenience! Hunting is a weekend sport for most. Sunday is half the weekend. Not allowing for hunting, especially on ones own property or for those who are permitted to hunt on someone else's private property is detrimental to the tune of 50%.

Thank You
