

the introduction of genetically modified organism into the food chain has been tantamount to lead in our water. The introduction of the same in your landscape is equally destructive as it has Been substantiated that the pollen of such in detrimental to the essential aviary (bee) population. the practice of establishing GMO crops is a travesty an crime against humanity in its blatant disregard to the environment and all biological species.

David Denome
Putnam, CT