Why I am in REACT program

I am Laurel Carry from East Hartford, CT. I attend the MCC Adult Education REACT. This class is very helpful.

I have one child with a disability that I care for and myself. I need to improve my education so I can have a better job and wages. Jobs are opening up for more advanced, new technology, experience. And I think coming to college is the right choice. It will teach me new ideas, advanced technology and skills to function effectively in a job.

The REACT program helps me to have tutors who take time to lecture and correct me to meet my college goals. It is benefitting the community to bring adults and teens together and help train us to meet college levels.

I wish this program to remain in the budget.
