To Whom it may concern,

I am hoping our legislative leaders in CT will vote to allow doctor assisted end of life choice, or suicide. I know I want this choice myself, if I am dying and will have no quality of life, or if I face a painful death. It is very hard to see a loved one suffering when dying of cancer. When they know they are dying, loose dependency, loose dignity, and starve so they don't have to take a feeding tube, and beg to just let them die. I have seen three family members go through this and I don't want my husband or children to go through watching me go this way. I know there needs to be guidelines, but it is time for adults to be able to make their own end of life choices. When we see our pets suffering, we take them to a Veterinarian, to be put down to end life peacefully.

I may not get a choice on getting a disease but I want the choice to be mine when it is time for me to go, when, I am done fighting, if I am dying having doctor assistance in ending my life would give me back some dignity.

thank you for reading this.
