So as I can tell I can say someone I know hit me and lie and they will loose there right to there arms and if the person if lying nothing happens to them for filling false report so what will stop someone from say this and that happen and after they get the guns taking away the person that filling the false report go there an do them harm because they now know they have noway to defend him or her self and do harm to them or even better you get a divorce and are fighting for the kids and the other parent calls and says all kind of bs and bam not the other parent get the kids now taking away because of what happen even if it's false I think that's is that wrong way to go I if some just dislike me and he knows I have guns that so now they know they can just call and say anything they want and that person
