

I'm writing to encourage you to support legislation that would allow Tesla to sell cars in Connecticut in whatever way that company sees fit. I don't believe that the government should be protecting incumbents from competition from new and innovative companies. It is high time that this hundred year old business model is infused with some new ideas.

Best Regards,
Michael Noe