

State spending is out of control and has been for years. Connecticut residents are paying the highest taxes in the country. You need to enforce the states constitutional spending cap and not include emergency or any other spending in the calculation of the spending cap for future years. It's time to get real.

Bill Hoboth
Tolland, CT