

Do not pass a bill to permit Keno gambling in Connecticut. It is just a regressive tax on relatively lower income residents, and thus a terrible way to raise money in our state. More gambling with all its attendant problems of financial difficulties for participants is the last thing we need.

David L. Hunt