

Here's the deal:

You give me a dollar every day,
And every other day, I give you a dollar back.

Who would be so stupid as to take such a bet?
But those are the odds on the CT. State Lottery.
But wait! There's more!

The money you 'win' is taxable. The money you lose is probably not deductible.

The odds on KENO are even worse.

The pennies you will raise from allowing/sponsoring/pimping KENO are nowhere near the Dollars you will cost the people of this state in additional social and psychological services.

When you study the KENO bill, wear surgical gloves. You don't want your fingerprints on it!
