

To Whom It May Concern:

Our State keeps looking for ways to increase tax revenue.

Gambling is not the way to go; some people do not know how to control themselves when they gamble, and they get into all sorts of trouble because of it.

Spending cuts make more sense, than implementing something that will do more harm than good.

I don't mean cutting services from those who need it; like those with disabilities, as our Governor has done. I'm sure there are other places where cuts could be made.

We've had to cut back our spending quite a bit, since I've been unemployed; why can't the State do the same?
