

I havee seen keno gambling and from my observation it attracts people to risk money they may not have to try against unforgiving odds. It is time cosuming and a losers game. Connecticut should be trying attract real business to the state that creates jobs. The state taxes and regulations are driving people to other states; just ask Florida.

Sincerely
Nathaniel Day