

I am opposed to the Keno bill. This is simply a covert way to raise revenue from tax payers without calling it a tax. I also believe the people who most often play such games are low income so really, you're taxing the people who can least afford it.

Bill

William R. Follett