

Senator Tony: I am sure this would not be used for testimony but I need to say as a retired middle income resident of CT. my wife and I are seriously considering moving because of the outrageous tax burden on seniors. I always dreamed that my life would be a little easier once I retired but now, I face the possibility , if I stay in Ct., having to go back to work, part time, because of my tax burden. This state has a serious problem with high taxes and it is forcing people to consider or actually relocating to live in more favorable states and there are 49 of them, where the burden is not so overwhelming.
