

Taxpayer dollars should be spent for projects that benefit the common good not for the whims of someone with influence. The ballpark is such a project. Keep government out of the real estate business, most times it leads to a financial disaster.

Bob Reeve