

I am adamantly opposed to spending one red cent of taxpayers money on corporate welfare for the Hartford baseball stadium. This state has the nickname "Corrupticut" for just this reason. You steal a team from New Britain and then expect me to pay for moving it to Hartford. I used to go to New Britain Rock Cats games with my son, but there is no chance in hell of us going to Hartford and supporting the Yard Goats. You do realize that CT is losing population due to the corruption and fiscal mismanagement, don't you? CT is suffering a "Brain Drain" as most educated people leave the state. My family will be leaving in June of 2017 just as soon as my son graduates from high school. Connecticut is nothing but a place between New York and Boston that you have to go through to get someplace else.
