With a bus way that we will be paying for for the next ten years for sure and probably longer since they will never have enough riders so that we won't have to be subsidizing it forever, why the hell would we be spending more tax dollars for a stadium when there is a fine one in New Britain. More union jobs is why. Paying his dam unions back for electing him. That's why. And the deficit continues to climb. And now the jack ass is cutting money to bury our veterans with a little honor service. He is taxing the workers into oblivion to support a welfare state better than any of the other fifty states which in turn draws more welfare people. I have zero respect for that moron. I'll be selling and moving south and leave these liberal democrats to support their welfare state with less and less money to do it with. Maybe then they will come to their senses.
