No one has the right to take their own life or decide the right to die for another. This is legalized suicide and euthanasia. You may say it is not but in the world of government slippery slopes killing off old people and legalizing suicide would be the progression. We already kill babies and now we will kill off the sick ? All for convenience . How about old people,mentally ill people,foster children. Should we start killing them off ? How about its you next because of your beliefs or background. This is how it starts.
