Payments to Businesses and Other Entities

Payments to businesses and other entities are at the core of State spending transparency. This data allows citizens to view who received payments from the State for goods or services and how much they received. Data from the CORE-CT Financial Accounting System are summarized by Agency, Payee, and Expense Account. Certain Payee Names have been removed in order to protect the privacy of individuals, in accordance with Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) regulations or where it might be a violation of protected information, in the case of Department of Criminal Justice Investigations. These redacted names appear as "REMOVED FOR PRIVACY."

Search Payment Records

This search provides the ability to view payments to businesses and others by Fiscal Year and Agency. To filter by a specific Payee, Expense Description, or Amount, enter the appropriate information in these fields. Click the payment in the search results to view payment details. Click the column headings to order the results.

Robert E. Emery, Ph.D. The Truth About Joint Custody: Weighing the Evidence

What do we know about how joint legal and especially joint physical custody affects the well-being of children, parents, and the co-parenting relationship? Many hold strong, definitive, and often contrasting opinions about shared parenting and what research proves. This workshop will take a critical look at empirical research, focusing on evidence related to shared physical custody and emphasizing a developmental perspective, including the state of knowledge concerning alternative parenting plans for infants and toddlers. Evidence on shared custody will be interpreted in the context of research on relationship quality, including parenting, coparenting, and family conflict. As a researcher, practitioner, and policy advocate, Dr. Emery has argued for 30 years that, in contested cases, “joint physical custody is the right solution directed at the wrong group of families.” Opinions about joint custody have changed dramatically in those three decades. Has scientific evidence changed too?
