I, as the Tax Collector for Clinton am in favor of being allowed to use online publication of my legal notices.

In addition to our legal notices that state the date and time tax installments are due, I also would like to state that the publication of tax sale and/or foreclosure notices are very expensive and it would benefit all parties to be able to post online. My legal notices for installment due dates runs about $250/yr. It is the tax sale and/or foreclosure legal notices that costs would be a one thousand to several thousand dollars depending on the number of delinquent accounts there are.

Respectfully submitted,

Melanie Yanus, CCMC
Tax Collector of Clinton
