Explanation of State Impact of Regulation:

No fiscal impact is anticipated. The Department of Consumer Protection already licenses, regulates and inspects motor fuel filling stations. This regulation will allow stations to employ electronic price signs, as they use in other states, as well as white-lettered signs on a black background, in addition to the currently-mandated black letters on a white background. Consumers will be equally well-informed through the use of approved electronic and white-on-black price signs as they are by viewing traditional black-on-white paper or magnetic signs. The regulation will not cause an administrative burden or add additional costs to the Department.

Explanation of Municipal Impact of Regulation:

No impact on municipalities is anticipated. The Department has jurisdiction over these regulations.

Explanation of Small Business Impact of Regulation:

There is not expected to be any negative fiscal impact on small businesses. Please see the Department's Small Business Impact Statement for more details.
