

This is an egregious over-reach! My grandfather's piano, his chess set, the dominoes I carefully protect, his antique cigar holder he brought from Italy. I fully support the ban of any trade or purchase. But to imply that when I die, those items would not pass to my heirs, or that they or I might be fined is unfathomable.

I will be watching this process closely.

Gerry Lupacchino
VP Leadership and Organizational Development

Hartford HealthCare
One State Street, Ste.19
Hartford, CT 06103