

Close the gate after the horse has left!

Great works of art should be appreciated and not made illegal. Another example of government overstepping it's original purpose.

New ivory should be banned, but pieces that can be dated i.e. historical provenance should be treasured.

Max Foote