Our taxes in this state of ConnTAXicut are the second highest in the country and driving both large and small businesses out of our state. The spending on projects such as our infrastructure needs to be completed before we begin new projects. Taxing car washes is totally out of hand and creating an environment for businesses to find other states and driving people to do their own washing instead of going to a local business for the service.

Connecticut needs to cut our tax burden, cut spending, and balance the budget even if it creates other issues. If I have to balance my budget, so should the state.
I support the Senate Bill 337 to remove the car wash tax.
