

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in support of SB 292. As a board certified behavior analyst, I believe licensure will lead to greater protections for Connecticut's consumers. Working in this field, it is not uncommon to meet individuals who claim to be experts in the field, using such titles as 'behaviorist' or 'behavior therapist,' who have little or no specific training or certification in this area. By providing licensure we can ensure that consumers are receiving services by professionals with specific expertise. Such licensure will also increase access to critical services for those in need and support third party reimbursement for such services.

Thank you for considering SB 292.

Sincerely,
Anne Benson, M Ed, BCBA
