

As an Environmental Educator, I see the positive effects of letting children play and learn outside year round. We already have so much development in CT that is so important that we protect as many open areas as we possibly can.

Donna Dione