Dear Senator Kane,

I am in favor of eliminating the personal income tax on Social Security benefits. Taxes in the state of CT are some of the highest in the nation. We are losing Seniors at rapid rates to states that offer lower taxes and incentives as citizens grow older. As their grown children live with them longer than they did in years past, quite often the working age children are moving with their senior parents. Our state needs working people. Our state needs children for our schools. Our state need to keep the retirement money that people spend as they age within the state of Connecticut. Let the people keep their money and spend it here to grow our economy, rather than the economy of other states.

Sincerely,
Deirdre Daly
