

Patricia Donovan
pdonovan33@hotmail.com
Colchester, Connecticut CT
United States

I live in a 55 plus adult community where most of the population is retired and collecting social security. Most of us planned this community to be their last place of residence, but there is now an increased amount of residents selling their homes to move to other States where they can more afford to live due to less taxation. CT is one of the worst States for taxing retirees when you include both State and local taxes. We need our representatives to help! Repealing State taxation of Social Security income would be a good start.